“ I am heartbroken that Chrissy is not here with us. I will always love her always. I stood up with her when she married Jay, and she sang at my wedding. She knew that whenever she knocked on my door, our bestie love for each other would always be there. She was so special to this world. Like everyone else, I wish she would have just knocked. Love to her and all of her family.

“ Chris and I have been friends since about 1979. We called each other cousin because we had mutual relatives. We were young and really believed we were cousins. She was such a beautiful person inside and out. She also had a beautiful singing voice! She sang "We've only just begun" at my 1st wedding in 1985 and it would bring tears to your eyes! We kept in touch after high school. Chris lived with me and my children in about 2000 or 2001. We would sit up late and just talk about anything we could think of. With me having 4 kids, I didn't have an extra bedroom for her but she never complained about having to sleep on the couch. She was so loving and caring with my kids. They thought the world of her. She moved away after that. We kept in touch but not like we did before. We have been talking recently about hanging out together a lot when we got to move to Tennessee. I didn't make it down there yet. I didn't get to spend time with my "cousin" and best friend. I will always regret not getting down there to see her. I miss you terribly my sweet cuz. Say hi to my daddy for me. The angels in heaven are going to love your beautiful voice and the loving person you are. My thoughts and prayers to her family. 🙏 I'm sure she will be missed by so many. I know I will miss her. Fly high and rest in peace Chris. I hope to see you again and hear you sing in the heavenly choir. My husband, Paul, knew her since school as well. He says he will miss her as well. We love you Chris. Sorry so long, but losing her has hurt me deeply and I wanted to write a memorial of our friendship for her. Love and prayers for Chris and her family.

“ I first met this lovely soul when Mother moved us from Centennial Avenue in Muncie to the 1866 built Humble Hoosier Heartland Homestead farmhouse in which I still live to this day. I was assigned to a fourth grade classroom in Redkey Elementary School, and this pretty little girl was in my class. She was kind to this awkward kid who had just moved to rural Redkey not long after the sudden death of my father. She was also beautiful inside and out. She had such a gentle soul. As we aged, and progressed in school, it became apparent that she had a very special talent. A talent that she was able and willing to share with the world. She had this simply magnificent soprano singing voice that could simply stop you in your tracks and GRAB YOUR ATTENTION!! There simply was something truly special in that spectacular voice of hers. Of course as the years passed, we'd went our separate ways. I'd chosen overseas service, deployed as a Pacific Fleet US Navy Aircraft Carrier Sailor. She'd ended up in Crawford Tennessee. One day, out of the blue at a lonely roadhouse diner over dinner in central California, through the magic of a smart phone and social media, a reconnection happened. She had commented in a thread on a post I had written about a place I had seen that day, by asking if I was the same Jim from her elementary class. Of course I was quick to reply and reestablish our long abandoned connection. So, for the last 15 years or so, since that day in California, I am fortunate to have been able to be in contact with an old schoolmate through the world of social media. I'm happy we were able to do so, because I had the opportunity to tell her how much it meant to me that she was nice to this little awkward boy, oh so many years ago. This past week she crossed the river and began her journey. I'm certain that Madrigal Choir On High was needing a lovely, angelic, Soprano voice.

She sang at her own wedding....

And, on February 4th... If you reflect within yourself and remember..... Really remember.... She's going to be singing in Heaven for an eternal audience on high.

Goodbye dear soul, you'll be loved, remembered with warmth and love, and missed until my dying day. 😭
