“ Grandpa and Grandma Mary were two of the best people in my life. Their love for me showed in every interaction we've had since they came into my life at 14.

They both were my consistent family source to my paternal side. I wanted to share just a few pics and share a couple of memories as well.

They both showed up at my first job in a deli the first week I started working. Just so they could be my customers. Instead of customers they ended up being my ride to the hospital because I sliced the end of my fingertip and needed stitches..lol

All the meals we shared together before and after I had Andrew meant so much. But seeing them with my son made me realize how loved I truly was by the both of them.

I never felt unwanted by them. I always felt important and loved. I also knew they were proud of me and I could discuss anything with them. Especially grandma Mary.

I regret not going down to see her and we hadn't had a face to face in 4 years. I regret not getting that last hug in.

*I am thankful Andrew and I both were able to tell her one last time how much we missed and loved her
I can rest easy knowing I told her often how much we loved her.*

You can never say that enough. I love you is so easy to say but we don't use those words as often as we should.

I'm a better person for knowing them and being loved by them.

*May they finally rest together.
I imagine they are both in heaven going to a barn or yard sale somewhere :)*

“ Aunt Mary was a very special person and had a heart of gold and do anything for anyone. The loss of her sister who passed the end of last month broke her heart. She was the last of 8 siblings to pass away. Will never forget all the fun time we shared in person and talking on the phone. Aunt Mary you will be sadly missed and never forgotten.
