“ Sandy was the prettiest and sweetest of all the McMurry Clan's first cousins. Her huge beautiful blue eyes were as expressive as any artist with a brush or chisel or hunk of clay. Sandy was quick to laugh, to love and to support. She was the baby of our family tree and the most shy of us. I am so blessed that we reconnected as older adults. Her visits were delightful. Our phone calls could last for hours, much of the time spent in laughter. Our last visit, we ventured off to our great great grands homestead. We were slipping and sliding in the car down a muddy dirt road, squealing in fright and laughing at us 2 old ladies on an adventure. What a blessing to have a sweet cousin who provided me with some special memories. My love to Larry, Patrick, Lance, Brenda and all who were loved by Sandy. God bless you as you navigate your loss and live in the love you experienced in Sandy.
