“ My Tommy. He didn't know how much he was loved by everyone. He was my brother from another mother and truest friend. For 20 years we worked together, rode together, walked home together when both our cars tore up at the same time. I counted on him for a laugh, a good story and all the town news. I know he's happy to be with his mother and to meet the Lord he loved so much, but, boy is he missed.
