“ I never met Tyran in person. We met thru War Machines and I knew him as LivingLegacy13. He was very compassionate and cared a great deal for fellow Team Wasp members. He would always reach ouch when someone needed help. He was a great man and will be deeply missed.

“ I just now heard about Tyron passing otherwise I would be at his funeral. He was always special. I remember visiting him in Nashville where he was hospitalized and during the visit, he was still optimistic about life. The last time I saw and talked to him was when he brought me a metal detector to school so I could try and find something that I had lost. I kept trying to give it back to him, but he said he bought newer model and the one he let me borrow was all mine. Prayers for all his family and friends; he will be missed , God bless “ Tyran was so, so special to me. Anytime he was around, it was always an adventure- be it for Taco Bell or a mud hole or seeing how far we could bounce those little sky balls that flew. (I think we actually lost it once, sorry Jada!! I still have the message where I asked him if he replaced it!) But most importantly when I was completely lost, he taught me how to be okay again. I loved him for that. My heart is broken for you guys.
